

GONZALEZ BYASS LA COPA EXTRA SECO BLANCO

SKU: VAGBLCBES

In 1835, Manuel María González Angel arrived in Jerez, intent on making a name for himself as a businessman. In that same year he purchased a small winery and began to produce and export his own wines. The success of legendary Tio Pepe which began production here was highly successful and today, Bodegas Tío Pepe is known around the world as one of the leading producers of sherry and Brandy de Jerez. Vermouth in Gonzalez Byass dates back to 1896. The La Copa range is based on these recipes found in the company archives dating back to 1896.

