

TOSOLINI DOLCE VITA APERITIVO

SKU: VATDV

Bepi Tosolini is a truly artisan producer of Italian liqueurs. With its original facilities nestled within the beautiful countryside of Friuli, just a stone's throw away from the splendour of Venice, Tosolini has been distilling since 1943, and remains proudly family-owned and committed to carrying on the legacy of its founders. The distillery is proud to continue operating various different designs of manual steam stills for the production of its excellent grappas, and maintains a cellar in order to age the spirits in barrels and barriques in the appropriate conditions. We are delighted to be able to bring you their vermouth-based aperitivo, a more recent addition to Tosolini's range at a time when the complexity, light spicing and unique terroir connections of these bittersweet drinks have never been more popular. Tosolini Dolce Vita Aperitivo is produced according to the same high standards of quality and savoir-faire. This aperitivo comes in at a refreshingly light 11.5% alcohol – lower than many other popular aperitivo brands, and even lower than most comparable wines, making it an excellent choice for savouring neat or over ice before dinner. The drink is crafted from a base of sweet vermouth, harmoniously integrated with subtle flavourings including bitter orange, herbs, and plant roots such as rhubarb.
