

WEINGUT RIEGER ZERO WHITE

SKU: GERWRZW

The Rieger family have been producing wines from their previously agricultural estate since the 1980s, embracing sustainable practices. In 2005, the estate embraced organic practices under ECOVIN guidelines, and by 2010, it had adopted biodynamic practices, attaining DEMETER certification. This philosophy embraces the vineyard as a living ecosystem. Wildflower cover crops attract pollinators, while deep-rooted plants feed the soil. Biodynamic calendar rhythms guide vineyard and cellar work, aligning with the natural cycle of the moon to elevate energy, balance, and character in every bottle.

Nestled in the historic village of Betberg—one of the oldest in the Markgräflerland—the estate is surrounded by undisturbed vistas of the Black Forest and blessed by the warm breezes funnelled through the Burgundian Gate. The estate enjoys an exceptional microclimate with Mediterranean air mingling with fertile loess soils rich in limestone and iron, creating the ideal cradle for expressive, elegant wines.
