

TARPA KAJSZIPARACK PALINKA (APRICOT) MINIATURE

SKU: LIEDVTAP004

Palinka is a truly artisanal fruit brandy, with its origins in the Middle Ages as a remedy for the queen of Hungary's arthritis. It was then widely adopted among the Hungarian peasantry, with every household distilling its own recipe from garden fruits despite an official ban. Palinka became a traditional versatile drink, fit for any occasion. Now, an almost bewildering variety of palinkas exist on the market, with all kinds of brandies made from local fruits, berries and nuts. A double distillation process is followed for a high alcoholic strength.
