

DORCHA ORANGE

SKU: SLIVDO

From the cool, rolling hills of Štajerska in Slovenia, this expressive skin-contact wine is a blend of Gelber Muskateller and Traminac, grown on marl, sand, and clay soils at 380 meters above sea level. Crafted by Izidor Vehovar—third-generation vintner behind the Dorcha label—this wine reflects a shift toward thoughtful, low-intervention winemaking that honours both tradition and innovation. Influenced by his neighbour Nick Gee of Heaps Good Wine Co., Izidor embraces spontaneous fermentation, native yeasts, and sustainable vineyard practices without irrigation or herbicides.
