

KEEPR'S HONEY GIN

SKU: GIKH

Our classic London Dry Gin has been carefully distilled with only the finest botanicals to create a superb infusion with our raw, unadulterated honey from the Cotswolds in Oxfordshire. The delicate honey sweetness is a welcome twist to this quintessential British drink. Saving the bees by drinking Gin!

Smooth, sweet and easy to drink. Low tones of vanilla with classic juniper and silky sweet finish. Serve suggestion: Serve in a copa/balloon gin glass with ice, top with your favourite tonic (or add a fiery kick of ginger ale) & garnish with a fresh rosemary sprig. The British Honey Company was launched in 2013 in the Cotswolds, Oxfordshire in the beautiful village of Yarnton. Since then, expanding across Oxfordshire each one of the hives work endlessly to pollenate British meadows and hedgerows and provide you with scrumptious 100% raw honey. With a love for Gin and Honey, our beekeeper produced the delicious Keepr's Dry London Gin infused with our Cotswold Honey in small batches from 300-500. Each batch is traceable to the hive the honey came from. It was only a matter of time before we decided to expand our product range with a delicious selection of spirits using locally sourced British fruit.
