

JACK DANIEL'S OLD NO.7

SKU: AWJD

The Tennessee Sippin' Whiskey is ready only when the tasters say it is. They use the senses, just like Jack Daniel himself did. In fact, more than a century later, the Tennessee Whiskey is still judged the same way. By the way it looks. By the way it smells. And, of course, by the way it tastes."

Tasting Notes: Notes of caramel, vanilla and spice, smooth toasted oak.

Jack Daniel picked a well-considered 80 percent corn, 12 percent barley, and 8 percent rye mix, which they still use today. The mash has an enticing sweetness thanks to the use of only No. 1 quality grade maize. With powerful overtones of pepper and spice, a generous amount of rye balances out the sweetness. With just the right amount of malt, it all comes together in a creamy smoothness.
